

There is longing in my heart tonight
While I walk these streets of sorrow
I'll try to leave my past behind
Will I face a new tomorrow?

But I have you always by my side
Showing me how life can be brand new
When I'm drowning in the bluest tide
You always pull me through

My Synthian
Every night and day you lift me up
You make it all okay
My Synthian
Like a neon light you shine the way
You're my Synthian

Will I make it on my own?
The walls come nearer as I lose control
And you never ever say goodbye
All the tears I had within, if I only knew that
When I'm drowning in the bluest tide
You'd always pull me through

My Synthian
Every night and day you lift me up
You make it all okay
My Synthian
Like a neon light you shine the way
You're my Synthian

I've seen the sign
This is where I draw the line
And every time I fall and try to hide
In the bluest tide
You'll be right by my side
And help me win this fight

My Synthian
Every night and day you lift me up
You make it all okay
My Synthian
Like a neon light you shine the way
You're my Synthian

My Synthian
Every night and day you lift me up
You make it all okay
My Synthian
Like a neon light you shine the way
