

Breaking Out

Nine Lashes

We find peace in the most unlikely place
But no one ever told you so
So you were left alone and cold

It's the trust in ever-after as it's told
It's the finding out a way to let this go
Though the pain has held you down

This is the day we're breaking out
Breaking out of here
But you better not give up and go back home
Cause He had to die to give you light
Give you light again
So you could find your way back among the living

These roads never take us all that far
They lead us into days where lights grow dim
But we were never meant to be our sin

It's the trust in ever-after as it's told
It's the finding out a way to let this go
Though the pain has held you down

This is the day we're breaking out
Breaking out of here
But you better not give up and go back home
Cause He had to die to give you light
Give you light again
So you could find your way back among the living

We were changed
We were the dead but now we're back as someone else
And we were changed
All of the pieces of our past have found their ending

This is the day we're breaking out
Breaking out of here
But you better not give up and go back home
Cause He had to die to give you light
Give you light again
So you could find your way back among the living

This is the day we're breaking out
Breaking out of here
But you better not give up and go back home
Cause He had to die to give you light
Give you light again
So you could find your way back among the living
