

The Changing Room

Nits

The heartaches, the headaches
The mistakes, the daybreaks
Sunset on a small bed
I can't forget the sleepless night

Sometimes I smile but I'm so afraid
In my changing room

A baby is born in a hospital
The time is standing still
Train stops the raindrops
On the window, so don't go

Sometimes I smile but I'm so afraid
In my changing room

Her shadow falls on the street
When she left (left the Tanzschule)
Shadow falls on the street

Headaches and the heartaches
And the mistakes and the daybreaks
The sunset on a small bed
And the sleepless night I can't forget

Sometimes I smile but I'm so afraid
In my changing room
Sometimes I smile but I'm so afraid
In my changing room
Changing room
Changing room
Changing room
Changing room
My changing room
Changing room
My changing room
Changing room
My changing room
Changing room
My changing room
Changing room
