He likes the cold winter nights
And the dark afternoons
The lodger
When there are shadows behind
Every window and blind
The lodger

There's another murder in the news today
He kills only women, always blondes they say

They hear the sound of a car Keep the front door ajar The lodger He saw the sign and it said They had breakfast and bed The lodger

There's another murder in the news today He kills only women, always blondes they say

Behind the thick green curtain Everybody's whispering

The lodger

The lodger