

Running Away

Nneka

I have been hiding, contemplating
Oh denying feelings I have inside when you are near me
Something within me makes me feel so out of place

I am running away, running away, running away
Running away from you
It is true
I am taking my space, taking my space, taking my space
Taking my distance from you
It is true

It was love in the first place, must admit you really blew me a way
All the music inside of me, got me feeling some kind of madness
It was love, it was love, it was love
