

Aftermath

No Fun At All

If you want me to go soar, you'll continue with your talking
And you'll have to disagree, I'm about to start my walking

But, falling in love and racing to hate
And you know it's never gonna end

We just don't care, we've set the timer
It's understood, there is no future for us
There's nothing we can say or do, our hands are tied together
It's like a razor on my throat

If you want me to go down, let the cramp out of your fingers
And you don't care how I feel, it's the way that [?] lingers

But, falling in love and racing to hate
And you know it's never gonna end

We just don't care, we've set the timer
It's understood, there is no future for us
There's nothing we can say or do, our hands are tied together
It's like a razor on my throat

See the hands on the clock revolving, just waiting to blast
Running for the detonation, get away from the past

Falling in love and racing to hell
And you know it's never gonna end

We just don't care, we've set the timer
It's understood, there is no future for us
There's nothing we can say or do, our hands are tied together
It's like a never-ending road
