

Champions

No Resolve

Today I won't let my words get the best of me
I've been wanting to say you need to change
Your life will pass you by if you look away
Darling you know it's never too late

It's a battle as old as time
We'll be fighting for the rest of our lives
When all is said and all is done
We'll rise up as champions

You saved all you hold dear in your memory
Some things are never meant to be replaced
Your life will be defined by your legacy
You shouldn't have to see to believe

It's a battle as old as time
We'll be fighting for the rest of our lives
When all is said and all is done
We'll rise up as champions

It's a battle as old as time
We'll be fighting for the rest of our lives
When all is said and all is done
We'll rise up as champions

We won't let time control our fate
To live like it's our last day
We will rise up as champions
