Meet The Man

Noah Schnacky

I bet he brought you every Sunday
I bet he showed you right from wrong
And cheered you on at every home game
And waited up til you got home

I bet he took the time to tell you
The love that you deserve
'Cause girl, the way you love me tells me
That he showed you what you're worth

I want to meet the man that made such a beautiful girl
That a guy like me couldn't ever deserve
Because a girl like you is a one in a million chance
I wanna meet the man that put that green in your eyes
And that one little dimple on the side of your smile
Let him know how much I'd love to take your hand

I wanna meet the man
I wanna meet the man

I bet he hated every boyfriend
He probably tried to scare 'em off
And girl, I bet it kinda broke him
When he watched you leave for prom

Yeah, it's like I already know him
Because of everything you are

I want to meet the man that made such a beautiful girl
That a guy like me couldn't ever deserve
Because a girl like you is a one in a million chance
I wanna meet the man that put that green in your eyes
And that one little dimple on the side of your smile
Let him know how much I'd love to take your hand

I wanna meet the man
I wanna meet the man

He's been gone for a little while
But I'll try to make him proud
He can't walk you down that aisle
But I know he's looking down

One day I'll meet the man that made such a beautiful girl
That a guy like me didn't ever deserve
Because a girl like you is a one in a million chance
I'm gonna thank him for putting that green in your eyes
And that one little dimple on the side of your smile
Let him know just how grateful that I am

I wanna meet the man
I wanna meet the man
