

One Day Tonight

Noah Thompson

Now and then after work on Friday nights
She'll lean in to a bottle of wine
And I just sit (I just sit), watch her talk about forever
Gotta admit, it might be my favorite thing ever

When her eyes fill up with stars (Stars)
Yeah, and her dreams pour out her heart

She wants a wedding in September, save up all winter
Spend our summers in a fixer-upper in Denver
She wants a girl and a boy and an old dog named Ol' Roy
Lord, I hope this old boy can give her that life
So go on, girl, well, pour a glass of wine
And dream aloud, talk about one day tonight
(One day tonight)

She lights up like a ten-foot Christmas tree
Dreaming up (Dreaming up) how our holidays will be
Already knows (Already knows) where we'll be in thirty years
Lord, I hope it's from her lips to God's ears

She wants a honeymoon in Vegas, front yard Hydrangeas
Already knows the places we'll be taking vacations
She wants a boy and a girl with my eyes and her curls
Lord, I hope this old boy can give her that life
So go on, girl, well, pour a glass of wine
And dream aloud, talk about one day tonight

Oh-oh, oh-oh-oh-oh
Oh, oh

She know she wants a princess cut diamond
But she don't know what's in my pocket, hidin'

She wants a wedding in September, save up all winter
Spend our summers in a fixer-upper in Denver
She wants a girl and a boy and an old dog named Ol' Roy
Lord, I hope this old boy can give her that life
So go on, girl, well, pour a glass of wine
And dream aloud, talk about one day tonight

I'm getting down on one knee tonight
We'll start right now, one day tonight
