

LIFE'S A BIT

NOAHFINNCE

Lemme find another way to tell you that I'm upset
Moral of the story: life's a bit batshit

Got some damage from the past I'd rather just forget
I'm terrified of the future and stuff I might regret
I hate to say I told you so but goddamnit I guess I'll say I told you so
Guess I'll find another way to tell you that I'm obsessed
Moral of the story: life's a bit batshit
I guess that life is like a box of chocolates that I'm never gonna get
And I'm stuck tryna fix the nonsense that's in my head

So many ways that I could say it
So why can't I even think of one?
Just say something
And break the silence
It's not a love song but you're alright

Gotta find another way to make myself confess
Moral of the story: I'm a bit of a dickhead
If I dive too deep get lost in the deep end
Get myself out and try not to regress
I hate to say that I don't know
But goddamnit I guess I'll say that I don't know
Guess I'll find another way to tell you that I suppress Every emotion I'm meant to express

So many ways that I could say it
So why can't I even think of one?
Just say something
And break the silence
It's not a love song but you're alright
So many ways that I could say it
So why can't I even think of one?
Just say something
And break the silence
It's not a love song but you're alright

I guess it is a bit of a love song but
Sounds a bit wanky
I dunno what to say

Lemme find another way to tell you that I'm upset
Moral of the story: life's a bit batshit
