

Okay

Nolan Taylor

You fall to your knees, throw up your hands
You wanna leave home but its too hard to swallow
All of these feelings you can't ignore
You know that I care, if you cared at all you wouldn't ask me to quit
I'm happy as can be
You're the one who seems to have a problem with it
You see I'm a grown man
You don't think that I know myself better than you
You can ask me to quit
Plead you're worried at shit, I'll do what I do

Health ain't my problem I've been destined for this
It ain't the reason I've been losing
Its all of these issues in life that I face
It isnt what you thinks been killing me
Okay, okay

And why do you always cry
I've been losing my mind
I slept two days ago you flip all the time
I can sleep through the night
Sometimes I just don't want to Yeah I got alot on my mind
You don't care about my time or the way that I cope
I love that you care
I hear what you're saying
I hide it from you

Health ain't my problem I've been destined for this
It ain't the reason I've been losing
Its all of these issues in life that I face
It isnt what you thinks been killing me
Okay, okay

Sunken face cheek bones you're looking so thin
Talk out your head and you can't pay attention
You're laughing at nothing and I don't know what to say
Tell you how I feel but all you have for me is an okay, okay
