

Every time you fall

Nomy

I said no, don't you worry
Cause life is up and down and that's the way life goes around
I said go, make it your way
Cause what you feel right now will go away and you know how

You're telling me you're done and out and you gave it all up
But I can still make you smile
Cause every time you cry and every time you fall
I know why

So sweet little child run away
From all that can hurt you
And you'll make it one day
You keep telling me that
All that you are is getting cold
The days getting longer
The days getting old

I said my friend, don't you worry
Cause all that they will be is shadows when you're close to me
I said no, fear life no more
Cause every time you cried I've been there talking by your side

You're telling me you're done and out and you gave it all up
But I can still make you smile
Cause every time you cry and every time you fall
I know why

So sweet little child run away
From all that can hurt you
And you'll make it one day
You keep telling me that
All that you are is getting cold
The days getting longer
The days getting old

So I said
Burn away, burn away
The flames in you shines brighter
So I said
Burn away, burn away
Your narrow view shines wider

So I said
Sweet little child run away
From all that can hurt you
And you'll make it one day
