

Meltdown

Nomy

One little girl went sailing on the ocean
Live and let die is a great contradiction
One little boy giving up for a reason
Die and let go is a final solution

I don't want to be here, want to be here
When it goes, when it blows
Every time I wake up I lose my mind

Can anybody save me now?

I don't want to be all alone out there
Giving up on what I've done and what I need
Ohh, am I the only one out here?
Giving up on myself and everyone

I don't want to be the last one standing
Revolution is lost by now
I don't want to be a part of this
Losing grip of reality

One little girl found dead in the water
Piece by piece yeah, that's how they found her
One little boy got caught for the slaughter
Somebody's son and somebody's daughter

I don't want to be here, want to be here
When it goes when it blows
Every time I wake up I lose my mind

But the famous words we know
When you look back on your life
What will you think of when you go
What you have or what you owe

Can anybody save me now?

I don't want to be all alone out there
Giving up on what I've done and what I need
Ohh, am I the only one out here?
Giving up on myself and everyone

Believe in me
You motherfuckers going under with me
One last farewell
I'm going to put you motherfuckers in hell
