

Violence

Nomy

You got to live the life that you want
You need to spend it all the right way
You could shut your mouth but you don't
Don't listen to what they say

You got to live the life that they don't
They going to waste it all away

When we're cruising you and me
You got to live it if you want to be
On the roads you've never seen

You walk away
You leave in silence
You leave her all the words you said
But you can't stay
Your mental state is torn in violence
She gives you promises of better days to late

You got to live the life that you want
You need to find it all on your own
You could stay in line but you don't
Just fall into the unknown

When we're cruising you and me
You got to live it if you want to be
On the roads you've never seen

You walk away
You leave in silence
You leave her all the words you said
But you can't stay
Your mental state is torn in violence
She gives you promises of better days to late

You're picking up the pieces
Remember yesterday
You've never been ok
You're picking up the pieces
Remember what I said
You better live while you're not dead

You walk away
You leave in silence
You leave her all the words you said
But you can't stay
Your mental state is torn in violence
She gives you promises of better days to late

So you walk away...
So you walk away, you leave in silence
You leave her all the words you said, but you can't stay

Her mental state, is hard to follow
You leave her all the things she needs but you can't stay
So you walk away, your days been hollow
