

Milestone

Nonpoint

Whenever you get the instructions
Whenever you get that eruption
Whenever you get the conviction
Whenever you lose the corruption
Whatever you bring to the table
Whatever you're willing and able to do
Whenever you wanna be stable
Try being a little more willing and able than you give a shit
Take a minute and work at it
Take a ticket and wait a second
And straighten out this crooked, wicked picket fence
Picking up trash in the front yard
And the backlash is a lack of attention inside the house
You need attention inside the house

You need affection inside the house
You need reflection inside the house
But there's no mirrors inside the house
You need reflection. You need reflection

Section by section - layer by layer
Problems on the inside
Un-package the players and the naysayers
Saying all the naysaying
Playing all their games
Hiding all their real faces from the public come out

Chalk it up as another milestone
Yeah, yeah

Coming out harder second time around
Bound for greatness
Wearing out everybody lined up
To body all the bases
The moral, the lack of morality
Itching and scratching
Bitching and lacking the value to even
Invest in a sure thing
Weeding out all the stranger things
High minded, kid approved, blindsided
Step into black jackets, dust swirls
Living in the upside-down world
Flack jackets, limo cars, gold bars, cut pearls
Celebrity all from a selfie
We're living in the upside-down world

You want affection inside the house
You need reflection inside the house
But there's no mirrors inside this house
You need reflection. You need reflection
