Day Breaks

Norah Jones

Day breaks in your head And you're finally alone I'll find a way to make it through But it keeps raining in your heart

Time follows you around
Ticking slowly at your nerves
It's amazing that we made it through
Cause it keeps raining in your heart
Raining in your heart

Maby you should go away

If the love we had is meant to stay

Find a place to call your own

No need to roam around the rooms

That once made up a home

Day breaks in my head
And I find myself alone
Hope you find a way to make it through
Cause it keeps raining in my heart
Raining in my heart
Raining in my heart
