

Safety Last

Norma Jean

I'll burn every bridge in the world

I am the wreck that you've been waiting for
The dream is real
The nightmare is fictional real
I'm telling you I've seen the serpent lose
A rush of poison from the fangs
Snap its tail
Fall into the lake and take a breath
Pull the root from the interlacing vines
Then end swims away to added end

I swear to God
The price to pay
The price you'll pay
I'll burn every bridge in the world
'Cause I never want to cross them again

So pray for this, pray for this, pray for this
Pray for this, pray for this, pray for this
Pray for this, pray for this, pray for this
Pray for this, pray for this, pray for this

What's in, what's out, what's in, what's out

I'll burn every bridge in the world
I'll burn every bridge in the world

I am infinitely bankrupt again
Aid to ruin is even more ruin
Rush in be the savior to us all
I'll believe every damned word

Just take a moment here and introduce yourself
No no truly, can you introduce yourself

Loveless
Take a moment, introduce yourself
Loveless
Introduce, introduce yourself

Desperate life, every damned word

Yeah, so pray for this, pray for this, pray for this
Pray for this, pray for this, pray for this

The dream is real
The nightmare is fictional
Real, real, real

So pray for this, pray for this, pray for this
Pray for this, pray for this, pray for this

What's in, what's out, what's in, what's out
