

Sleep Explosion

Norma Jean

(Check, check)

Don't you?
Glass half full, half empty
No glass at all, no glass at all

Always saying the wrong thing
At the wrong time, and
At the right time but at the wrong thing, and so on
Don't you?
Don't you?

Yeah so shake it off and throw it out into jagged teeth
And listen for the rattle digging up your dust and bones
You can break it off and drag out all the smoke in its lungs
And curse out every word even if it tastes like blood

Glass half full, half empty
No glass at all, no glass at all

Always saying the wrong thing (Shut up)
At the wrong time, and
At the right time but at the wrong thing (And so on)

24 hours and a new beginning
24 hours and a new beginning

Let's go

24 hours and a new beginning

Let's go
Let's go right now

24 hours and a new beginning

Yeah so shake it off and throw it out into jagged teeth
And listen for the rattle digging up your dust and bones
You can break it off and drag out all the smoke in its lungs
And curse out every word even if it tastes like blood

Don't you?
Don't you?
