

No need for dirt, I'm already still
I outweigh the orbit, I've
Never been around the sun
Always beside it
The burn is a reaction
Repeat the strokes that will bring the
Water to my neck, the tears over my head

The conflict is an illusion
Just get as close to the reflection
Eyes into the fractured glass
The bounce back, the cross over
Over

Break bread with the ally adversary
Backwards and forwards blinded by the shadows below
All of you and everything and it's never ending
It never started anyway

No need for dirt, I'm already still
I outweigh the orbit, I've
Never been around the sun
The burn is an illusion

Just get as close to the reflection
Eyes into the fractured glass
The bounce back, the cross over
Truth withers long before the roots are pulled

Truth will be the first prey amid the raid
And you'll see the smoke before you feel the flames

You're an enemy of speech
Your legacy is a furnace spawning generations of hell!

Break bread with the ally adversary
Backwards and forwards blinded by the shadows below
All of you and everything and it's never ending
It never started anyway

It's never ending
It never started anyway!
