

Collide

Normandie

Just wanna feel like I'm something
Even when our worlds collide

Just wanna feel like I'm something
Something that's worth fighting for
It feels like I am giving up, but holding on for love
So why would you hide behind these lights
The truth is a lie you dressed up in white
You will repress this moment inside

So give me life, give me fire
Cause I'm drowning in the ocean of you and I
We must fight
We'll survive the storm even when our worlds collide
Forgive and forget

Just wanna feel like I'm something
Something that's worth dying for
Feels like I am all alone, but sleeping next to you
So why would you hide behind these lights
The truth is a lie you dressed up in white
You will repress this moment inside

So give me life, give me fire
Cause I'm drowning in the ocean of you and I
We must fight
We'll survive the storm even when our worlds collide
Forgive and forget

Yeah with all I am
And with all I have
I will make you stay or go away
'Cause I won't last much longer

So give me life, give me fire
Cause I'm drowning in the ocean of you and I
We must fight
We'll survive the storm even when our worlds collide
