

Ecstasy

Normandie

I'm gonna call it out for what it is
There's a change in the weather
You've got no puppet on your broken strings
You've got the cat's in the cradle
Delusional thinking
Delusional hope, hmm
Huh, I'm gonna call it out for what it is
You're as frail as a feather
Another visionary gone extinct

So can't you see you're losing
Losing all your friends
You're losing, losing it all

I can hear the sound of you running away
Stand your ground if you've got something to say
It's like you're looking for reason
Confirmation, ecstasy
I can hear the sound of you running away
Stand your ground if you've got something to say
It's like you're begging for treason
Desolation, oh, oh

I'm gonna call it out for what it is
You better change for the better
You don't believe in what you're preaching
The joker and the thief
Delusional thinking
Delusional hope, hmm

Losing, losing all your friends
You're losing, losing it all

I can hear the sound of you running away
Stand your ground if you've got something to say
It's like you're looking for reason
Confirmation, ecstasy
I can hear the sound of you running away
Stand your ground if you've got something to say
It's like you're begging for treason
Desolation, oh

You got nothing left to save you now
I will make it rain on your parade
You've got nothing left to save you now
(Save you now)

I can hear the sound of you running away
Stand your ground if you've got something to say
It's like you're looking for reason
Confirmation, ooh
