

Insomnia

Normani

I thought that I've been going crazy
But I'm doing better lately
I finally stopped the tears from running
And I know that's gotta count for something
But when you decide to hit me
I'll reminisce on all the history
And if it ain't because of the whiskey
I wonder if you really miss me

Oh, you got some device that tells you when I'm fine
'Cause it's the very moment that you hit my line
I wonder how you know that I'll be moving on 'Cause it seems like you really love to make this shit impossible

I wish you didn't call me
There's so much it reminds me of
'Cause every time you call me
It's giving me insomnia
I wish you didn't call me, yeah
There's so much it reminds me of
'Cause every time you call me
It's giving me insomnia (insomnia, -a)
It's giving me insomnia (insomnia, -a)
It's giving me insomnia

Turned into an inconvenience
You only want me when convenient
I know that I could probably block you
But for some reason I wanna see you
And you know I give a damn about you
You got me sitting here thinking about you
And how your name triggers all my emotions
Into my eyes, into an ocean

Like you got some device
That tells you when I'm fine
'Cause it's the very moment that you hit my line
I don't know how you know
That I've been moving on
'Cause it seems like you really love to make that shit impossible

I wish you didn't call me
There's so much it reminds me of
'Cause every time you call me
It's giving me insomnia
I wish you didn't call me, yeah
There's so much it reminds me of
'Cause every time you call me
It's giving me insomnia (insomnia, -a)
It's giving me insomnia (insomnia, -a)
It's giving me insomnia

It's giving me insomnia
(I wish you didn't, I wish you didn't, I wish you didn't call me, there's so much it reminds me of,
'cause every time you call me, insomnia)
