Just Getting Started

North Point Worship

I thought it was over
But You were just getting started
And when I thought I was done for
The waves were just being parted

I've stood at the edge of the water
The enemy pressing in behind
I've wandered the driest desert
No promised land in sight
I've stood in the middle of the fire
Wonderin' if I'll make it out alive
When I was losing the battle
Surrounded on all sides

I thought it was over
But You were just getting started
When I thought I was done for
The waves were just being parted
I've only seen a piece of the picture
It's getting clearer
When I can't see your hand
I will trust your heart

You're just getting started
You're just getting started
You're just getting started
You're just getting started
You're not finished, You're just getting started

Into the darkness You came running
My deliverer every time
My strength, my shield, my shelter
You never leave my side

I thought it was over
But You were just getting started
When I thought I was done for
The waves were just being parted, yeah
I've only seen a piece of the picture
It's getting clearer
When I can't see your hand
I will trust your heart

You're just getting started (You're not finished)
You're just getting started (You're not finished)
You're just getting started (it's the beginning)
You're just getting started
You're not finished, You're just getting started

You say you are with me
You will go before me
I will trust You, only
You're just getting started
You say you are with me
You will go before me
I will trust You, only

You're just getting started
You're just getting started, yeah
Ooh, yeah

I've only seen a piece of the picture
It's getting clearer
When I can't see your hand
I will trust your heart

You're just getting started (You're not finished)
Yeah (You're not finished)
You're just getting started (it's the beginning)
Ooh (You're not finished, You're just getting started)

I've only seen a piece of the picture
It's getting clearer (it's the beginning)
You're not finished, You're just getting started