North Point Worship

Your cross is still the foolishness confounding all the wise
A mystery we only see when through a child's eyes
Some will look for wisdom in philosophy or signs
But mine is in the love, the love of Jesus Christ

It's simple, simple
Hallelujah, it's so simple

Salvation is at work in us despite the sense it makes
For there's no condemnation now, our sins are washed away
Some will measure righteousness on scales of wrong and right
But mine is the blood, the blood of Jesus Christ

It's simple, simple
Hallelujah, it's so simple
It's simple, simple
Hallelujah, it's so simple

You're really that good
You're really that kind
You're really that faithful
You're really that wise
If the little I've seen
Is still blowing my mind
Then I'll be standing here in awe
For my whole life

'Cause You're really that good
You're really that kind
You're really that faithful
You're really that wise
If the little I've seen
Is still blowing my mind
Then I'll be standing here in awe
For my whole life

Your kingdom is too glorious to fully comprehend
It will stand unshaken from beginning to the end
Some will put their hope in things that fade away in time
But mine is in the Name, the Name of Jesus Christ

Hallelujah, it's so simple
Hallelujah, it's so simple
Hallelujah, it's so simple
