

Just Fine

Not3s

I think you should trust in me

I think you should trust in me

Yeah when I know I'm the cold one, was sleeping then
But now I have awoken, kiss chase in school
I was never chosen
Now I get girls that are better than my old ones
And better than your new ones

Tell a hater "do one"
I am such a nuisance
MOBOS with a swanky suit and some sparkly Louboutin
Wardrobe full of different fabrics, I don't know what to choose from My mind's all over the place, I cannot choose one

Kids doin' just great
I'm doin' just great now
Things ain't ever what they make out
That's why I gotta stay out
Man ah grind 'til I gotta skate out
All the games that they play I play
We don't share the same traits
So I'm doin' just fine

I'm doin' just fine
Doin' just great
I'm doin' just fine
(I think you should trust in me)
We don't share the same traits
So I'm doin' just fine

Hate on me on a sly that's fine 'cause I don't care
Chattin' off behind my back that's facts 'cause I've got burnin' ears
My glow up is a haters hell on Earth I hope they burnin' well
They stay on watch me shine
Doin' that Big Ben 'cause it's my time

Tell a hater "do one"
I am such a nuisance
MOBOS with a swanky suit and some sparkly new Louboutin
Wardrobe full of different fabrics, I don't know what to choose from

Remedy on this beat [?]
Doin' just fine
(I think you should trust in me)
