

Start It Over

NOTD

I don't know what you're feeling
Don't longer know how I feel for you
And I'm chasing for signs
Losing my mind

Lately you've been out of reach
Acting so indifferent when we speak
I can feel you're distant
When you're close, close to me
Even when you're close, close to me

You've got me stuck in my head
And I've got you drinkin' again
Maybe we can learn from this
Or we can let it all crash down
Down with your feelings
We can beat this yeah
Or maybe we should start it over

Yeah, well, I tried to give it all
Well I tried to be right for ya
And then I let it all fall
So I can learn how to fly for ya
And I know that you love it
I know you love it when I'm real with ya
But this as real as it gets
I'm so sick of this shit
I'm addicted to this, 'cause...

You've got me stuck in my head
And I've got you drinkin' again
Maybe we can learn from this
Or we can let it all crash down
Down with your feelings
We can beat this yeah
Or maybe we should start it over

There's a sound in the distance
It's a whisperin' mumble
Close your mouth and just listen
Can you hear the thunder?
There's a sound in the distance
It's a whisperin' mumble
Close your mouth and just listen
Or maybe we should start it over

We should start it over
