

The Me

Nothing More

Malnutrition is motivation, but it's pride the fire that fuels our nation
Self-denial is health, it's vital, but is pride our sixth sense of survival
Hey You, Can you hear me?
You're gonna die
It doesn't matter how far you are inside
You know you fear me
You're just another parasite
The me is rising up
The me is rising up
Grab a gun, point at the me, and take aim
Love is life, it's blood and sacrifice
But is pride the easy path with a better price
Family's embracing one another
But is pride bad blood that flows between brothers
