

Bring back your hope to life
That's what they told me, but
I can't see through the dark
How do I take it with serenity?

Will the sun rise again?
And the smile on your face
Still shine on us
Oh, will it shine on us?

A death sentence has frozen my soul
It echoes like a bomb
I think I'm losing control

Tell me how
There's not a thing in my eyes worth fighting for
Tell me how
Turning me upside down, not anymore

D-E-A-T-H sentence
H-O-P-E-less at last

Take me
Take me

Impediments made me lose my innocence
Weighing the world on my shoulders
Set me to trial to test your dominance
I can't get hurt any worse again

Will the sun rise again?
And the smile on your face
