(Trapped inside, I follow the blind)
(I fear and then I realize)
The clouds are about to fall
Did you plan on giving up?
They say we've gone too far to hear them crumble
(It's too late to go, it's too late to go)

Let's watch this "Heaven"
Smother the lies underneath their mess
And paint this picture
Cause it's the only thing remaining in our minds

I pray they will suffer when they figure it out
They're blessing a reverie, I was made by design
I was made by design, I was made by design
I was made by design, so break me down
Shape me up

I could bleed like a saint and bleach my faith
Could bet you've never seen one down here
Cause they are dead in this hell we've built
They're all dead in this hell we've built
Dying to fuel the motion
I can't seem to find my own
All the devils are home and I'm always alone
(I'm always alone)

Let's watch this "Heaven"
Smother the lies underneath their mess
And paint this picture
Cause it's the only thing remaining in our minds

I pray they will suffer when they figure it out
They're blessing a reverie, I was made by design
I was made by design, I was made by design
I was made by design, so break me down
