

Longing for the end
Can't play pretend
When you're all alone in a crowded room
Wounded on the road
Left in the cold
When will I see through the light

Wounded on the road
When will I see through the light

You're at the start of the end
Feels like you've done it all
To stay away from these demons you battle
All alone
All alone
All alone
I know it's hard to forget the pain
And leave it all

So let go of your fears
You're not alone
I'm right here
And I will tell you to hold my hand
'Cause together we could stand
You're not alone
I'm right here (I'm right here, I'm right here)
And together we could stand

You're at the start of the end
Feels like you've done it all
And though you try to pretend
To fit on your own
I know it's hard to forget the pain
And leave it all

So let go of your fears
You're not alone
I'm right here
And I will tell you to hold my hand
'Cause together we could stand
You're not alone
And together we could stand

Would you let go of your fears?
You're not alone
I'm right here
And I will tell you to hold my hand
'Cause togetether we could stand
