

Shaky Ground

November 2nd

Ways go astray sometimes
They'll play you like a spider plays a fly
It feels like walking on shaky ground
I feel like I'm walking on shaky ground

Stars are bright holes in th sky
And if I look through, might get a glimpse of the other side
Feels like walking on shaky ground
I feel like I'm walking on shaky ground

Once you were mine but now you're gone
And there's no point in blaming you on and on

Since you left I'm torn apart
(I'm) like a shadow crawling down through my days
There's no cure to heal my heart
Days and years have slipped away through my hands

People talk but I can't hear
I know they mean well but what I've lived can't be unlived
Feels like walking on shaky ground
I feel like I'm walking on shaky ground

Sun don't shine and birds don't sing
The world turned quiet still me heart won't cease it's beat
Feels like walking on shaky ground
I feel like I'm walking on shaky ground

I stagger through this nameless town
Sooner or later I'll have to get back on my feet and rise

No priest to make a confession to
From the blackness of the soul
They've left us without any explanation of the world
We were thrown into an ocean of thousand possibilities
Forced to learn to swim and if we fail we're left to drown
