

Outer Space

Now, Now

Hey are you back from outer space
To make up for all the lonely winter days
Oh I never meant to make a scene
I only wanted you to stay

It's colder with the windows down
And it's quiet when you drive me home
With nothing to say for hours
Because we know we're both alone

We'll speak louder now
But it's not like there's much to tell
And we're making plans for something else
And newer things I won't know about until now

Oh you don't say much
Oh is it too far
