

Powder

Now, Now

Say I'm just a stranger, speak a different language
Every word is foreign, but you're so familiar
In my dreams you're silent, and you know what I'm hiding
Yeah, my mind is violent, but you're keeping it quiet

And you know I'm not myself when you're not around
And you know where I find myself when you're not around
I've been drinking, baby, won't you come and save me?
Like an angel waiting, I let you surround me

I'm alright until I see your eyes above mine
The way they shine, the way they shine
And in that room, I know I had you
We were tangled up in each other, I know I had you

Oh you kept me hanging on, won't you let me in, come on
If you need a reaction, baby, I'm a good distraction
Every night you haunt me, but you move so carefully
If I'm so perfect, baby, how come you don't want me?

When you know I'm not myself, when you're not around
And you know where I find myself when you're not around
I was just calling, baby, I've been feeling lonely
Tonight I'm getting hazy, I feel you all around me

I'm alright until I see your eyes above mine
The way they shine, the way they shine
And in that room, I know I had you
We were tangled up in each other, I know I had you

Crush me up into a powder
Take me away like the wind
Sinking in deeper each hour
This place without you is sin
Waking up here in this moment
Fragments of you on my screen
Light breaking in through my window
Stuck in a particle dream

Though I tried to let you go
I could not have seen
Time alone could only show

Loving me baby is easy
Where do I begin?
