

Sleep Through Summer

Now, Now

I'm sorry dear I haven't been sleeping because when I have I woke up and thought it was winter I'm sorry love for leaving you out my head is an empty house when you're not around

I'm sorry dear I haven't felt much like company but if September won't bring you to me then I don't care

I'm sorry dear for ignoring the phone I've got clumsy feet and clumsy toes to keep me from home
