

Destruction

nothing,nowhere.

Destruction, destruction
I'm trying to forget
It's been years
I can picture your silhouette
Disruption, corruption
Inside my head

Ay, ay, ay
Why you gotta go set fire to the room like that? (Yeah)
Go and shut the door in my face and you running right back
And I've been going off with your heart every day, no cap
But the pain gonna come either way, yeah, we both know that
So impatient
I've been feeling vacant
What am I chasing?
Stuck inside this basement (Oh-oh)
Feeling useless
Wonder what the use is
And the truth is
I don't wanna do this

Destruction, destruction
I'm trying to forget
It's been years, I can picture your silhouette
Disruption, corruption
Inside my head
So how am I supposed to feel now?
Treading water when you're not around
And one more night I think that I'mma drown
So how am I supposed to feel?
And how am I supposed to feel now?
And how am I supposed to feel?

You only call when you need me
Only try when it's easy
I remember back in VT
Old Vans with the 'preme tee
I just feel like it was better then
Now it's different and it's evident
Now it's harder than it's ever been Built a house to burn it down again

Destruction, destruction
I'm trying to forget
It's been years but I still see your silhouette
Disruption, corruption
Inside my head
So tell me how I'm supposed to feel now
Treading water when you're not around
One more night I think that I'mma drown
So tell me how I'm supposed to feel (Tell me, tell me how I'm supposed to feel)
So tell me how I'm supposed to feel now
Treading water when you're not around
One more night I think that I'mma drown
Disruption, corruption, inside my head
So tell me how I'm supposed to feel now

Destruction, destruction
I'm trying to forget
It's been years
I can picture your silhouette
Disruption, corruption
Inside my head
So how am I supposed to feel?
