

upside down

nothing,nowhere.

I'm feeling upside down
I saw your car, I know you're back in town
I called your friend, she said you're not around
She said that I should go and fuck myself
Go and fuck myself
I'm feeling upside down
Windows up so I can drown the sound
I hit the freeway and I'm screaming out loud
Maybe I should go and fuck myself
Go and fuck myself

I know you know
I can't let go
I won't pretend
That I'm okay
With how this came to end

Maybe I shoulda tried a little more
Every night we were lying on the floor
Maybe I shouldn't lie anymore
Maybe I should've tried a little more

I'm feeling upside down
I saw your car, I know you're back in town
I called your friend, she said you're not around
She said that I should go and fuck myself
Go and fuck myself
I'm feeling upside down
Windows up so I can drown the sound
I hit the freeway and I'm screaming out loud
Maybe I should go and fuck myself
Go and fuck myself

I knew when you left
You'd take another piece of me and never look back
But I don't regret you
I don't wanna see you 'cause I'll miss you again

Maybe I should've tried a little more
Every night we were lying on the floor
Maybe I shouldn't lie anymore
Maybe I should've tried a little more

I'm feeling upside down
I saw your car, I know you're back in town
I called your friend, she said you're not around
She said that I should go and fuck myself
Go and fuck myself
(Maybe I should've tried a little more)
I'm feeling upside down
(Every night we were lying on the floor)
Windows up so I can drown the sound
(Maybe I shouldn't lie anymore)
I hit the freeway and I'm screaming out loud
(Maybe I should've)
Maybe I should go and fuck myself
Go and fuck myself
