This is the last bit of my pride
So it might sound typical but listen to my story
I hate giving excuses
But I don't think I can lose you
I ate dinner with another girl yesterday
Because I hated you, because I hated you so much
Because I can see you
Thinking of him every day

Maybe you'll see me if I act badly
I try to gain your attention like this
Dara dara dadada
I don't wanna let you go
What can I do to have you?

On a white canvas, a crooked traffic light shines red
I wait but it doesn't change to green
I walked the opposite way on a one way street
Maybe I'll run into you this way
I am standing by the blinking street light
When will it turn off? It looks dangerous
Seems like it's looking at me, I know it'll be hard if it turns off

I resemble the foolishness so I keep looking for you

Whatever I do
You don't even get jealous
You don't even care
If you thought of me as your man
You wouldn't do this to me

Maybe you'll see me if I act badly
I try to gain your attention like this
Dara dara dadada
I don't wanna let you go
What can I do to have you?

At least lie to me
Even if you don't mean it, tell me you'll forget him
Even if it's hope torture, do it
Show me some kind of flaw
There is no spot for me
Open your heart so I can at least breathe a little

Will you look back at me just once?
Can't you love me out of force?
I can't take this anymore
I can't forgive
Myself for being in love without love
