This small world of mine
Is filled to the brim with you
Whenever I walk, the edges of my clothes
Are left with traces of you on them

I don't know how many turns of four seasons
I've spent waiting
But I don't mind repeating
A couple more turns
You are more than enough for me

Though we're apart right now, we're always together

Don't forget, please don't forget that
As long as we keep walking as we follow that bright Polaris
We will meet again like we do in our memories

All the stars for you for you for you
I'll give you everything, do it for you
The Polaris is always standing in its place
All the stars for you for you for you
I'll give you everything, do it for you
Though you're a galaxy away, I can feel you here

Can I be honest and say this?
Truthfully, I'm a little lonely
No, no
I'm worried saying that might burden you more
Pretend you didn't hear me
Stars that have connected, please become an image for us
And stay right there so we can see you whenever we look up
Even if it's just once a day, that's okay
Please shine brightly

I don't know how many thousands of times
I've dreamt of you coming back
But I don't mind repeating
A couple more turns
That is more than enough for me

Though we're apart right now, we're always together
Don't forget, please don't forget that
As long as we keep walking as we follow that bright Polaris
We will meet again like we do in our memories

All the stars for you for you for you
I'll give you everything, do it for you
The Polaris is always standing in its place
All the stars for you for you for you
I'll give you everything, do it for you
Though you're a galaxy away, I can feel you here
