

No Apologies

Obey the Brave

I'd rather die standing up, standing up, than live on my knees
No more apologies, No more apologies
I'd rather die standing up for what I believe
No more apologies, No more apologies
It's buried deep inside
The darkness feeds the light
Something's different, disconnected
Despite what you ignore
The demons at the door,
Shut them out now, disconnect them all
I'd rather die standing up, standing up, than live on my knees
No more apologies, No more apologies
I'd rather die standing up for what I believe
No more apologies, No more apologies
It's rooted deep inside
It's blooming, rain or shine
Something's different, reconnected
Doubted myself before
My faith is now restored
Built myself up, standing tall on trust
I'd rather die standing up, standing up, than live on my knees
No more apologies, No more apologies
I'd rather die standing up for what I believe
No more apologies, No more apologies
The blindfold's off, I can finally see
My arms untied, I am finally free
Can't take this voice away from me
No more apologies, No more apologies
I choose the harder path, ride in a separate lane
On my grind, all the time, to push through all the pain
I vow to stay myself, never someone else
No playing safe, pray shit falls into place
Pick up the fucking pace
I vow to stay myself, never someone else
I vow to stay myself
I'd rather die standing up, standing up, than live on my knees
No more apologies, No more apologies
I'd rather die standing up for what I believe
No more apologies, No more apologies
The blindfold's off, I can finally see
My arms untied, I am finally free
Can't take this voice away from me
No more apologies, No more apologies
No compromise
