

Visions in My Head

Obituary

These visions in my head
How can this be
Every time you blow my mind
I can sense that special something

Illusions in my head
How can this be
Every time you turn me down
I can sense that special something

You take me away
To the place I love
Then you waste my time
With all the hate you store

Oh tell me how
How you want it now
You need someone
And I need you now
And I need you now

These visions in my head
How can this be
Every time you blow my mind
I can sense that special something

Illusions in my head
How can this be
Every time you turn me down
I can sense that special something

You tear me down
Like a rubber doll
Then you save my day
With all the love you store

Oh tell me how
How you want it now
You need someone
And I need you now
And I need you now

These visions in my head
How can this be
Every time you blow my mind
I can sense that special something

Illusions in my head
How can this be
Every time you turn me down
I can sense that special something
