

Lost Between Emotions

Oblomov

Here I stand
I'm lost between emotions
Please take me there where my feelings can fly
My silent voice is thundering in scream
All those who hear me can't believe my words
Over all that ignorance against the wide conviction of masses with burden of thousnads looks in desperate longing
To make you see

Here I stand
I'm lost between emotions
Please take me there where my feelings can fly
Open your eyes
Overstep horizon
I know that beyond there is hidden unexpected
Behind the border of knowledge of man I've seen strange light
And heard voice in the air
Come with me let me take you there
Where I'm the only guide the first one?
The last one?
With no understanding I can't explain what I've seen that ligh t
The voice you hide me here before the eyes of those who can un derstand
And set me free
You lock me on the place from where no hands can take me
There where my feelings can fly
You build the wall around me
You lock me on this place to eliminate the danger from society
's face

Here I stand
I'm lost between emotions
Please take me there where my feelings can fly
Untie my hands
Please I'll accept your choice
Release me from fire of your sacred voice
My perverted visions...
Now they are gone
Together with you I'll stand against the storm
No more I'll speak
I'll spread around the silence
It was just my own dream
Please no more violence
With the crowd I'll stand as one
While the fire will be burning
No step aside or run
I'm not the only one
