Ocean Alley

Lovers, love until your heart hurts, yeah
Wander, until you reach your destination
The cities, we build them then they fall down
So take me, to where the desert meets the ocean

'Cause this could be magic
This could be exactly where the

Ocean sweeps you up and washes everything away
All the pressure from the world just fades into a memory
Let the sunshine fill you up and turn the sky to tangerine
Let the sunshine fill you up and turn the sky to tangerine

Diamonds, they shine against the darkness
And the bad days, are never gonna last forever
They test me, they wanna see me fall down
So take me, to where the desert meets the ocean

'Cause this could be magic
This could be exactly where the

Ocean sweeps you up and washes everything away
All the pressure from the world just fades into a memory
Let the sunshine fill you up and turn the sky to tangerine, yeah
Let the sunshine fill you up and turn the sky to tangerine
