Ocean Grove

We'll feel the weight of the world, weight of the world on our shoulders. Fight the elements, walking with beasts, our lives in harmony!

We make the same mistakes, not hesitate to make them again, steady the fucking consumption for sleepless nights! I'll say it again for sleepless nights

What will the future hold in store for us? What will the future hold in store for us?

I can't be sure yet

When facing the crossroads of life trust in yourself and do what you feel is right or you'll feel the weight of this world!

Our hands are not strong enough to carry this burden, to live without worship. We trust in our human perceptions, we trust in our human perceptions (perceptions, perceptions, perceptions)

We make the same mistakes, not hesitate to make them again, steady the fucking consumption for sleepless nights! I'll say it again for sleepless nights

Forget our past mistakes, live with our greatest flaw, our fate is in our veins but we hold on. Facing our only road this is our destiny and we hold on!

We don't have the power but we've got strength in numbers!

We don't have the power but we've got strength in numbers!

We don't have the power but we've got strength in numbers!

We don't have the power but we've got strength in numbers!
