

Breaking Free

Ocean Sleeper

Breaking free
We don't have to fear the darkness
We don't have to feel alone
Breathe the fire inside
Ignoring the pain
We'll make this world ours

I'm holding on
To the dreams I have
To the dreams of getting out of here
And you're not holding me back
And this is all I have left
Don't act so speechless

You could never trust
You could never believe
That I've found strength
I've found hope hope
More than you will ever know

The years have come and passed you by
But you know as well as I do
That its not the years that you have lost
Its the ones that you left behind
Let the glow of the new day heal
The pain that you're holding oh so deep
Stand strong stand tall stand proud
Make this world ours
