

Forever Sinking

Ocean Sleeper

Burn out this misery
Burn like the hate in me
Give me a reason more than not giving up
Show me it
Burn out this misery
Burn like the hate in me
Give me a reason more than not giving up
Show me it

Dissect me, it never changes a thing
Cut through me, put me out of my misery
I'm screaming out for meaning endlessly
This life is forever sinking

Will you sleep when you know what I've done?
Could never know of the pain still to come
I'm screaming out but no one hears a thing
This life is falling beneath me

Sink with me

I've been falling apart for so long it starts to show

I've been feeling low these days
So sick of all the hope that I'm meant to see
Tired of trying to pray for change
'Cause this is what I'll always be
This memory you don't need

I've been trying to fill this hole with whatever fits
I've been trying to change but it never sticks
So low these days
'Cause this is what I'll always be
This memory you don't need

Rejecting everything that I need
Just leave me, put me out of my misery
Still screaming out but you could never see
This life is forever sinking

This life is forever sinking

Burn out this misery
Burn like the hate in me
Give me a reason more than not giving up
Show me it
Burn out this misery
Burn like the hate in me
Give me a reason more than not giving up

I've been feeling low these days
So sick of all the hope that I'm meant to see
Tired of trying to pray for change
'Cause this is what I'll always be
This memory you don't need

I've been trying to fill this hole with whatever fits

I've been trying to change but it never sticks
So low these days
'Cause this is what I'll always be
This memory you don't need
