

How did you know, you know, you know, now know
How did you know, you know, that I'm comin' for you?
How did you know, you know, you know, now know
How did you know, you know, that I'm comin' for you?

Look

How did you know I'm watching your movements
I'm rocking designer garments
I'm rolling 'round with these units
I'm blending to my surroundings
I'm understanding the blueprint
I'm calculating locations
I'm understanding the rootin'
I'm slowly plotting the plan that will cause you the most discomfort
I'm planning to fry you up then feed you to fucking hundreds
The bacon of my emotions
The maple of my existence
The sweetness among the thorns kinda treating you for a victim
But born for an eye of purpose
I'm grasping to get the words out
And if you turn up it's guaranteed that I turn out
I put the herb down and pick it back up
Wiz would work for goals, I'm not a stick in the mud
I told her, I'd be the sickest thing since sliced bread
Never did what I said, lied, wept, cried for a while
That's a lie, never cried, but my eyes dripped
From the harsh winds in my life that I sidestepped

How did you know, you know, you know, now know
How did you know, you know, that I'm comin' for you?
How did you know, you know, you know, now know
How did you know, you know, that I'm comin' for you?

Yeah

Life loses in the gaps between the double shorts
Skinny arms flailing out my puppeteers double drop
That smooth face will ring your neck and tie your tongue in knots
Cold hands sculpted out a fantasy in butterscotch
Twisted off the artificial flavouring
E numbers always fucking up the base for him
Yeah, but every week she bails me up to book another 7 nights in paradise, s elf-catering
Sip wire through your insides
Pictures of my smug grin, grinded on this chick's eyes
Pieces of her burnt soul smouldering a king size
Linking her at half past, ditching her at midnight
And I'll be gone a while
Whole crew sparkling in grubby suits
Specialise in rapping fire, drinking, happy drug abuse
Drowning in success, snorkelling in wine
Dig your girl's ear out and crawl into her mind

How did you know, you know, you know, now know
How did you know, you know, that I'm comin' for you?
How did you know, you know, you know, now know
How did you know, you know, that I'm comin' for you?
