

Broken Curse

Oceano

The fall
Withstood the fall for you
I painted the pages with my blood with my blood
Stained it all for you
Withstood the fall for you
Still there's no light shining through
There is no light shining through

And with a blind eye still we drive
On these cold empty roads at night
Turmoil, unexpected plight, the naysayers delight

Persist and push on
Persist and push on

Living this life can only take you so far
Up late, internal, nocturnal, submit to thoughts
I reached out my arms (Reached out my arms)
Embracing light within the dark

The unknown is all we knew
The crossroads are not home
The unknown is all we knew
The roads we once called home
The unknown is all that we know
The road is all that we know
It won't let go!

It won't let go
I'm falling in and out
It won't let go
I am not alone but I'm all alone
At the end of it all
No more searching in the dark

I find it hard to breathe
Staring at it all

We paused to experience life
When things go silent
New dawn, as the crescent moon rises
Find peace of the mind
Warriors never willingly die

Greatness awakens with time
(With time, with time, with time, with time)
Greatness awakens with time

False idols
Pandering pretenders with poisonous lies
Stand on your hill
Speak your ills
Fade away with time

A broken curse
No more sacrifice
Disregard who we are

Who is left, what's endured, and who has survived?
Disregard who we are
Your faithless screams are remembered

Your faithless screams are remembered
These words sever the ties!
Sever the ties!
