

Entrapment

Oceans Ate Alaska

Condemn these visions of clarity
Vast glaciers they conceal reality
I'm so sick of all the memories that haunt my mind
Frost bitten but convince myself that I'll be fine
This time it's gone too far
This time it's gone too far

This fragile cover can pull you under
Please don't bury me
Why can't I keep these thoughts from caving in
Like an avalanche
Like an avalanche

All it takes is one little step to be the death of us

So suffocate beneath this weight
Entrapment
Concealed so deep it's slowly killing me
This emptiness in my head pulls me apart at the seams

Purity lets slip to deception
I'm caught beneath the ice searching for my reflection
One step, wrong move caused it all to shift
A consequence but it don't mean shit

Desolate, entrapment

The recklessness has fallen silent
But I never took you as one for violence
The damage is already done
You left me numb

This fragile cover can pull you under
Please don't bury me
Why can't I keep these thoughts from caving in
Like an avalanche
Like an avalanche

So tread lightly now the snow is weak
I should have never gone so deep
Take my hand
Take my hand
So pull me out this avalanche