

Darkness closes in around me as life starts to unfold me
And I can feel it, so consuming, as I try to hold on
To everything I thought was real
Those lies just won't make sense today
I'll kill myself a thousand times before I go on this way
I'll make it all go away

Failed attempts, memories, last goodbyes
Yeah, I wash it all away
Unfulfilled, burning wishes and soul desires
You were just a tourniquet
A lasting dose I thought I wanted

And nothing helps with the pain
I can't tell if I'm sane, or if I ever was

The shelf-life of misery seems to be so long
When you're searching for a little hope
Upon your way to the gallows

Make me come away (sunlight)
Wash it all away (sunlight)
Make me come away (sunlight)
Burn another day (sunlight)
