

Keep Dreaming Upside Down

October Fall

I was burning up to fall apart
And the walls fall down around my heart
Now I'm feeling sick. it's always something lately
I was broken down, but still looked good
I was kissing clocks, you knew I would
Now I'm feeling scared,
Someone say that they miss this

The night is young
We wait for love
Upside down we dream
At home we sleep
And wait to leave
Upside down we dream
And we are all brighter than stars back home

Don't leave so fast
I was in the sun, but feeling cold
I was grapping tight, but lost a hold
Now who'd want to stay?
While we're all here changing

I was ripped apart, but held by glue
I was full of lies, but spoke the truth
Now I've lost my myself, oh I forgot how this felt

The night is young
We wait for love
Upside down we dream
At home we sleep
And wait to leave
Upside down we dream
And we are all brighter than the stars back home

Don't leave so fast, don't leave so fast.
